Bush Babies is a weekly nature based play group for parents and preschool children aged 1 to 4 years. Cleland is the perfect setting to engage in nature play and develop a relationship and appreciation for nature while exploring social interactions with other children.

Each week will involve different activities that will promote a new educational adventure such as exploration, climbing, making, collecting, reading, building, singing and playing. When you register for Bush Babies you will be notified of the adventures for the term, which you may then choose to attend each week depending on your own Bush Baby's busy schedules. After each session parents are invited to relax in the warmth of the cafe or the sunshine of the cafe garden, while having a chance to chat to other parents in the group create new friendships.

Bush Babies sessions are pay-as-you-go, as we understand life with your own Bush Baby can be unpredictable!

Program details

- Tuesdays from 10am to 11am
- For ages 1-4 years
- Meeting point is in the cafe (program always starts on time, if late staff can direct you to where to join us).
- Cost is $16 per session.
- Terms are in line with SA school terms.

Tips

- We encourage you to bring a pram, as destinations around the park vary from week to week
- Bush Babies fee does not include entry to the park. We recommend purchasing an annual pass for the most cost effective option.
